CONGRESS CALLED

Extra Session to Declare State of War With Germany — Date of Meeting is Advanced to April 2 as Result of Assaults on United States' Rights.

Washington, March 21—President Wilson today met the constantly increasing probability of war with Germany by summoning Congress to assemble in extraordinary session, Monday, April 2, two weeks earlier than the date he had chosen before the latest assault upon American rights on the seas. When the President addresses Congress, he is expected to show how a state of war actually existed for some time because of the unlawful aggression of German submarines.

Congress is expected formally to declare a state of war existing, vote a large sum, probably half a billion dollars, for national defense, and clothe the President with authority to use the armed forces of the United States as it empowered President McKinley to deal with the menace of Spain in 1898.

Such action would not be a declaration of war, except in a technical sense, and whether the United States and Germany actually go to war in the fullest acceptance of the term will depend on what the imperial government does before Congress is assembled or after it acts.

Ominous Aspect

Dispatches from abroad tonight declaring that the German government expected a state of war within the next forty-eight hours placed an ominous aspect on the situation.

Much to charge the President's present intentions for the course of the government in the crisis may develop before April 2. The first American armed ship will by that time have reached the war zone. The ruthless destruction of one of them, unquestionably would be an act of war.

On the other hand, sinking of a submarine by one of the armed merchantmen probably would be met as an act of war by Germany. Even the arming of American ships, with the avowed purpose of defending them against U-boats may be declared such an act. In any of these events, practically nothing would remain except for Congress to acknowledge a state of war existing from a certain specified date—probably last Sunday, when three American ships were sunk with loss of life.

The next ten days, until Congress meets, will be days of tense anxiety, of eager waiting and watching fraught with possibilities of tremendous consequence to the United States.

No War Declaration

President Wilson and his advisers in the cabinet and in Congress have no intention that war shall be declared by the United States. By the hostile acts of German submarines they believe the imperial German government is actually making war on the United States, and that it shall be recognized as such a state. To meet such a condition the armed forces of the country and all the national resources are to be put in a state of readiness. Then, whether the nation shall enter the war in its fullest sense will depend upon how much farther Germany carries her acts of aggression.

CARLISLE MAN HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Carlisle, Ky., March 21—The examining trial of Jesse Hughes, charged with the murder of Henry T. Johnson, was held before Judge James Mitchell this morning. Several witnesses were introduced by the Commonwealth, though none were introduced by the defense.

The witnesses were William Clark, Omar Clancy, Owen Earlywine, Logan Anderson, Clarine Livas and Naomi Johnson. They testified that Hughes and Johnson quarrelled a few minutes prior to the shooting, and that Johnson had a large revolver which he took from an inside pocket and placed in his coat pocket a few minutes prior to shooting. Judge Mitchell held Hughes over to the May term of the Nicholas Circuit Court without bond.

Hughes was captured in this city by Chief of Police Mackey and his force and returned to Carlisle.

THE FARMER'S MARKET AFTER THE WAR

Although American farmers are now getting record prices for their products, due to war conditions, importation of agricultural commodities are so large as to cause concern for the farmer's market if the present tariff law shall be in force when the war comes to an end.

Foodstuffs are pouring into the United States at the rate of over $50,000,000 a month, according to figures just made public by the Department of Commerce, the total for January being $51,000,000, and for the first seven months of the fiscal year 1917, ended January, the total was $331,000,000, or nearly $90,000,000 greater than for the similar period ended January, 1913, when the products of American soil were protected by an American tariff law. November, 1916, was the banner month for imports of this character, when $55,000,000 worth entered.

When it is recalled that the average rate of duty on all importations for the seven months period—$1,348,000,000—was under nine per cent, the larger part of which was collected from manufactured articles, which comprised 35 per cent of the importation, the loss of revenue because of the enlarging of the free list on food products, comprising 25 per cent of the importation, will be appreciated.

It should be borne in mind, also, that the food-producing countries of the world are straining every energy to feed the 18,000,000 non-producers in the European war a task which is accompanied by colossal waste through the operation of submarine warfare, destruction of vast quantities of stores, etc., all of which has to be made up. The dairy products of Holland, Denmark, Italy, Canada, the meat and fish products of Norway, Sweden, Canada, the grains of South America, the rice of the Orient, are all being diverted in large measure to the European belligerents, while the belligerents themselves have declared embargoes on their own food products. And still our foreign competitors in these products are able to chalk up a 37 per cent increase in their sales to us. Does not that suggest the possibilities of competition for the American farmer when peace in Europe is restored? Should we still be handicapped with the Democratic tariff law, these food-producing countries will turn a larger share of their attention to the free-trade market of the greatest per capita food-consuming nation in the world.

A month by month comparison of imports of foodstuffs, crude and manufactured, during the first seven months of the fiscal year 1913, under protection, and the similar period of the fiscal year 1917, under near-free-trade is enlightening to the farmer, and is as follows:

Month	1912-13	1916-17
July	$39,100,000	$49,700,000
August	34,400,000	44,800,000
September	26,100,000	37,200,000
October	41,500,000	48,800,000
November	35,800,000	55,300,000
December	29,400,000	44,200,000
January	35,000,000	51,000,000

Total 7 months.....$241,300,000 $331,000,000

This is an average monthly increase, the two periods compared, of nearly $13,000,000, with the energies of our competitors divided between the United States and Europe. How long does the American farmer think he can stand this gaff after the war?

STILL THE POLITICAL POSTMASTERS

It is hard to eradicate the idea that postoffice appointments are political patronage and nothing else. Only a few days ago the greatest and most profitable office in the country was taken from the hands of an expert, who has given a lifetime of service to the Postal Department, and an estimable gentleman of average attainments, no post-office experience and a colorless record in public life was appointed to be its head because he happened to belong to the party in power. Now the conferees representing Senate and House have agreed to drop from the postal appropriations bill the amendment, proposed by Senator Poindexter and adopted by the Senate, putting all first and second class postmasters into the civil service.

For this Mr. Moon, chairman of the House Committee on Post Offices, is primarily responsible. He frankly admitted, in fighting the amendment in the House, that he thought civil service regulations a delusion and a snare as applied to the postal service. Most of all, he was opposed to the idea that a postmaster, having made good and gained experience in a small station, might be advanced to take charge of a larger and more important office because he had proved his qualifications to run it to the satisfaction of the public. He was against "carpet-bagger postmasters."

Whatever satisfaction Mr. Moon and the rest of the politicians can obtain from this victory, they are entitled to. They have perpetuated the spoils system instead of helping to install a merit system. Sooner or later the change will have to be made, because that is the only sensible and decent way to handle this phase of national business. It is generally to be regretted that patronage-grabber ideas have delayed the day of its going into effect.—N. Y. Tribune.

IS DANIELS WORTH IT?

If Daniels were only a nuisance he might be tolerated; Bryan was tolerated, which shows how good tempered, how careless, the people are.

But Daniels is worse than a nuisance. He is a menace; a blunderer whose blunders threaten not the self-conceit but the very existence of the nation. Josephus is capable of any folly: his stupidity, his malice, his ignorance, his vanity, all these are instruments with which men of fair intelligence can turn him to their purposes.

As Admiral Fiske has proved. Josephus Daniel's denials, his statements, mean nothing.

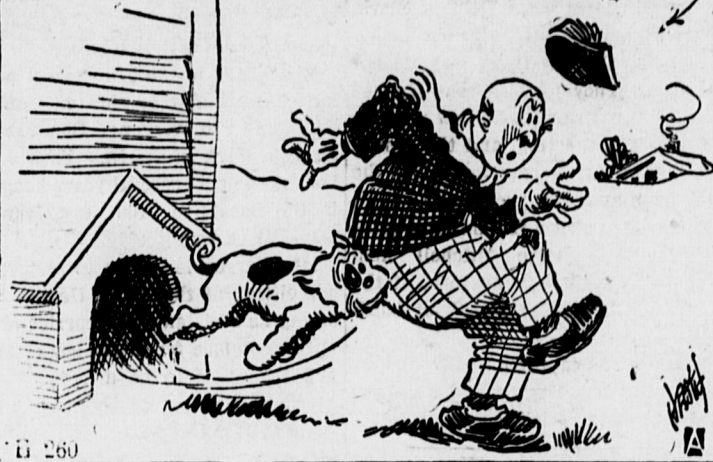

Yet Daniels is part of what we must support: part of that which we must "stand behind." He is a girder in the structure of national defence, a prop in the fabric of preparedness, and for his blunders we must pay with treasure, with human suffering, with men's lives.

Is Daniels worth the price?—N. Y. Sun.

THE ADAMSON LAW

The Adamson law, upheld by the decision of the Supreme Court, reads:

AN ACT

To establish an eight-hour day for employees of carriers engaged in interstate foreign commerce, and for other purposes:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled: That, beginning January first, nineteen hundred and seventeen, eight hours shall, in contracts for labor and service, be deemed a day's work and the measure or standard of a day's work for the purpose of reckoning the compensation for services of all employees who are now or may hereafter be employed by any common carrier by railroad, except railroads independently owned and operated not exceeding one hundred miles in length, electric street railroads and electric interurban railroads, which is subject to the provisions of the Act of February fourth, entitled, "An Act to regulate commerce," as amended, and who are now or may hereafter be actually engaged in any capacity in the operation of trains used for the transportation of persons or property on railroads, except railroads independently owned and operated not exceeding street railroads and electric interurban railroads from any State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia, or from one place in a Territory to another place in the same Territory, or from any place in the United States to an adjacent foreign country, or from any place in the United States through a foreign country to any other place in the United States: Provided, That the above exceptions shall not apply to railroads less than one hundred miles in length which principal business is leasing or furnishing terminal or transfer facilities to other railroads, or are themselves engaged in transfer of freight between railroads or between railroads and industrial points.

Sec. 2. That the President shall appoint a commission of three, which shall observe the operation and effects of the institution of the eight-hour standard work day as above defined and the facts and conditions affecting the relations between such common carriers and employees during a period of not less than six months nor more than nine months, in the discretion of the commission, and within thirty days thereafter such commission shall report its findings to the President and Congress; that such member of the commission created under the provisions of this act shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the President; that the sum of $25,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and hereby is appropriated, out of any money in the United States Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the necessary and proper expenses incurred in connection with the work of such commission, including salaries, per diem, traveling expenses of members and employees, and rent, furniture, office fixtures and supplies, books, salaries and other necessary expenses, the same to be approved by the chairman of said commission and audited by the proper accounting officer of the Treasury.

Sec. 3. That pending the report of the commission herein provided for and for a period of thirty days thereafter the compensation of railway employees subject to this act for a standard eight-hour work day shall not be reduced below the present standard day's wage, and for all necessary time in excess of eight hours such employees shall be paid at a rate not less than the pro rata for such standard eight-hour work day.

Sec. 4. That any person violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $100 and not more than $1,000 or imprisonment not to exceed one year, or both.

NOTABLES OF NATION URGE U. S. TO ACT

New York, March 20.—With a warning that the United States is unprepared for war with any first-class power, a committee of the Union League Club, headed by Robert Bacon, former Ambassador to France, and including in its membership many men of prominence, presented at a special meeting tonight a report calling upon the country to get ready for action. Charles E. Hughes presided.

"If we go to war with Germany," said the report, "our only real protection will be the ships of the French and British navies and our own navy, which is undermined."

"We have no coast defenses which could prevent the landing of troops on our shores. We have no defense which would prevent the complete and immediate capture of our coast cities and ammunition factories in the coast states of New Jersey and Connecticut, as well as every one of our navy yards. The facilities with which a hostile power would land troops on our shores have been repeated and authoritatively stated."

Many Things Lacking
"Our regular organizations lack many things which are vitally essential in modern warfare. We lack machine guns of all types. We lack grenades and bombs. We are without trench mortars of the type in use in Europe. We are without various kinds of field signals apparatus. We are short of modern field wireless. We are without any of the modern types of heavy mobile artillery, such as is in general use in Europe."

"We are short of reserve field rifles and all field artillery. We have not a field gun for volunteers. Our supplies of reserve ammunition are ridiculously small."

In opening the meeting and outlining its object, Mr. Hughes said: "There is a principle involved in the attacks that have been made and the success of that principle, I do not think. It is too much to say, threatens the integrity of our country. If that principle is successfully maintained, the question is not simply of commercial rights. I regard these attacks, the methods of their conduct as an onslaught on liberty and on civilization itself. It is time that the American people understood it. All organizations exercising public influence should record their convictions."

BRIDGE BLASTED AFTER WARNING—MULLIKIN'S BLOOD-HOUNDS PUT ON TRAIL

Lexington, March 21—Captain V. G. Mullikin's bloodhounds were called to Fleming county yesterday to assist in the efforts to find men who placed a bomb under the bridge on the Mount Sterling-Flemingburg road which marks the boundary line between Fleming and Bath counties.

The explosion of the bomb yesterday morning at about 1 o'clock, splintered the flooring and destroyed a post on the bridge but did not cause damage enough to cause passage to be blocked.

The bloodhounds were put on the track and followed the trail nearly a mile down a branch which runs into Licking river. The trail ended abruptly with the discovery of two saddled horses and another horse hitched to a buggy, tied to trees on the side of the stream.

Efforts to identify the horses or the vehicle or find their owners were fruitless and absolutely no clue has been found to the bomb plotters who placed their engine of destruction under the bridge marking the boundary line between Bath and Fleming county on the road from Mount Sterling to Winchester.

The bomb episode followed anonymous threats that the bridge would be destroyed unless the company owning the bridge, which asked toll for all passage, discontinued refusing passage without paying duty. It is thought that a band of terrorists blasted the bridge.

On the bridge was found a paper, around the corners of which was a black border made in pencil, purposed to look like a funeral notice, and typewritten in the center of the paper was the statement, "Warning No. 1."

The bomb episode followed indignation over the prices asked by a Bridge Company which charged toll for passage over the bridge. A woman was toll keeper. It is said that $1.50 was asked for premium before ordinary vehicles would be allowed to pass over the bridge.

A threat, charging that a band, 600 strong, was indignant over having to pay toll and the rates charged, was left on the bridge and found last week by the toll receiver. It is believed by the officials of the county that the threat was made by a band of night riders but credence is not given to the number which the threat declares is in the band.

The bloodhounds were taken yesterday to the scene of the bomb explosion by L. C. Bowen, at the request of County Judge C. W. Fulton, of Fleming county.

The threatened destruction of the bridge will not terrorize the toll extractors and the woman collector of customs will sit in her seat as usual according to the statements made yesterday.

If any further intimidation is attempted a guard will be asked for the bridge. The bloodhounds were brought back last night.

TWO GERMAN SAILORS THOUGHT TO HAVE MADE GOOD ESCAPE

Philadelphia, March 20—Notwithstanding the Navy Department statement that all the sailors of the German auxiliary cruisers interned at the Philadelphia navy yard, who last night made a dash for liberty, had been accounted for, the local police were tonight working on the theory that at least two of the Germans made good their escape.

Search of the waters around the yard for the bodies of Lieutenant Chorth and Hermann Schroder, machinist's mate, reported to have been drowned in the attempt to swim 300 yards to the mainland, was discontinued late today. Captain Tate, of the Detective Bureau, detailed a large squad of men to watch railroad terminals and all other large exits from the city and fliers containing descriptions of Chorth and Schroder were sent broadcast.

Electricians today strung wires over the meadows in the vicinity of the navy yard and erected a large number of high power arc lights. Tonight the meadows were as bright as at mid-day.

Mayor Smith announced that the interned crews, numbering about 750 men, would be transferred to Forts Oglethorpe and McPherson early tomorrow. His announcement was made after he communicated with naval officials in Washington.

GOOD BACKS FOR BAD

Maysville Residents Are Learning How to Exchange the Old Back For a Stronger One.

Does your back ache, feel weak and painful? Do you suffer headaches, languor and depression?

The kidneys may be calling for help.

Weak kidneys cannot do their work. Give them the help they need. To cure a kidney backache you must cure the kidneys.

Use a tested and proven kidney remedy. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.

Convincing proof of merit in Maysville endorsement:

Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 W. Second St., Maysville, says: "At times, my back has ached across my kidneys. My kidneys have been irregular in action and I have had dizzy spells and headaches. I have always used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wood & Son's Drug Store, and they have never failed to relieve these complaints."

Mrs. Holliday is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Holliday had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. REPEATED WARNINGS OF APPROACH OF REVOLT FAILED TO AROUSE EMPEROR

Petrograd, March 20. (Via London).—Court scandals and constantly accumulating evidence seem to clearly establish the weak character and incredible lack of foresight of Nicholas and his apparent ignorance of conditions that spelled his inevitable downfall.

Grand Duke Nicholas Michaelovitch made most persistent efforts to apprise Emperor Nicholas that the country was in danger and the throne tottering, but the emperor showed no more sign of being scared by this warning than by that of the Dowager Empress and a multitude of other personages who approached him.

Late in November Grand Duke Nicholas Michaelovitch took to the palace a letter that he had written and read it aloud to the emperor and empress. It expressed in most blunt fashion the danger the country was in, and showed how only by the prompt action the emperor could save the empire from complete collapse. The Grand Duke took no pains to conceal the Rasputin scandal, but when the name of the empress was mentioned the latter snatched the letter from Nicholas Michaelovitch's hand and tore it up.

When the emperor received in silence the statement that Protopopoff (minister of the interior) had been foisted upon him by Rasputin and listened to the other accusations without denying or showing signs of being the least confused by them the Grand Duke lost all patience and shouted at his majesty:

"Do none of these things move you? You make me think of Alexander I."

An appeal to the emperor signed by seventy grand dukes made no greater impression than that Vladimir purisketvich, vice president of the Union of True Russians and a prominent member of the Duma, paid a fruitless visit to the palace on the same mission. All spoke freely to Nicholas of the growing danger to the dynasty and the necessity of his protecting himself against the influence of the empress. To all these the emperor replied:

"What has Alexandra to do with politics? I refuse to believe that she is unpopular with the people."

LIBERTY NEAR FOR FINLAND

London, March 19—Home Rule for Finland is the policy of the new Russian Government, according to a Reuter correspondent writing from Tammerfors, Finland's greatest manufacturing city. The correspondent says that the Finnish Diet will be convened shortly and asked to establish a Government possessing the full confidence of the people.

Gen. Zein, Governor of Finland under the old regime, has been sent to Petrograd as a prisoner. People throughout the country are jubilant over the change and the situation everywhere is peaceful.

The Russian Cabinet will shortly issue a manifesto dealing with Finnish liberty, according to a Petrograd dispatch to Reuter's. Negotiations are proceeding with Baron Rosen, former Ambassador to Washington, with a view to his appointment as Governor General of Finland.

GERMAN GUNBOAT IN CHINESE HARBOR BLOWN UP AND SUNK

WILL SOLVE THE PROBLEM

Old Mr. Higheast Livin' is going to receive one of those awful left handed jabs in the solar plexus this season, if all signs do not fail. All the vacant places in the Fifth Ward are being prepared for gardens, and one enthusiastic Hickson is not content with daylight digging, but has brought the electric light into play and is busy getting the ground ready at night while the seeds that were planted in the daytime in another part of the "farm" are germinating. The most of the East End Hicksons will cultivate only the luxuries, potatoes, onions, beans and tomatoes. As soon as the river goes to bed the banks will also come in for a cultivation.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Mr. Rufus Knight, a prominent business man of Sharpsburg, and a brother of Mrs. Woodson Taulbee of this city, was brought to Hayswood Hospital late Tuesday night in a most serious condition from stomach trouble. An operation was found necessary which was performed by Dr. Taulbee, assisted by Drs. Quigley, McGuire and McClanahan. While the condition of Mr. Knight is most critical, the report from the Hospital this morning are encouraging and strong hopes are entertained for his recovery.

WILL GO TO CHINA

LITTLE DOING

On the Maysville Tobacco Market Yesterday, Sales Being Very Light—Market Closes One Week From Today.

The Maysville tobacco market yesterday was very quiet, the sales being light, although coming close to those of the day before. The sales totaled 123,215 pounds at prices ranging from $8 to $25 per hundred pounds, the latter price being given at the Farmers and Planters House. The market on the whole seemed better yesterday by a few cents per hundred.

The sales of the season will close on next Thursday, a week from today. It is now thought that it is very unlikely that the sales of the season will reach 25,000,000 pounds, as was predicted at the first of the year.

The sales yesterday were as follows:

The city pardoning board, which was elected at the last regular meeting of the City Council yesterday pardoned Robert Outten, who was in jail on a charge of selling liquor in local option territory. This is the second prisoner the Board has pardoned within the past week. Outten's family was said to have been in a destitute condition and the Board was disposed to be lenient with him.
